If the Italian Government will send transport over here to take the gang of thugs and assassins home, it will be the best use it can make of its shipping facilities.

Ominous Hints.

From the "Sturdy Oak," a Farmer's Alliance paper, we take the following hints, which seem to be full of meaning just at this time:

The Alliance is here to stay. The old parties are to go. The people's rule has commenced.

Men do not gather grapes of thorns nor figs of thistles.

The rich do not seek to hold office for the mere honor of serving the poor.

When the party hacks are particularly anxious to have something done for the dear people, it is generally a safe rule for the people to oppose it.

Yet the farmers and laborers of this country regularly elect lawyers, bankers and railroad magnates to make and execute laws for them.

Discriminate carefully between the man who is willing to take it, and the man who is after it whether the people want his service or not.

A Successful Rancher.

Hon. George Alt informed a Gazette reporter recently that from 15 acres of vegetables raised in 1889, he sold over $6,000 worth, and that he had a better crop this year and expects better prices. He says his potatoes yield 20 tons to the acre.

Twenty tons to the acre means $500, which beats California orange groves hollow. The statement made by some of our misguided contemporaries that a man cannot make expenses raising vegetables does not seem to be borne out by these figures.

Deep Artesian Boring.

The McNair brothers have bored the deepest well in Sierra Valley on their meadow ranch. The contractors found an easy job, boring to the depth of 1132 feet in five days and a half. The bore is three inches in diameter, and flows 38 feet from the surface. It costs 39 gallons per minute of hot water. No water was struck until the auger reached 1075 feet, when a stream was struck. The hot water was struck at 1132.

There is a hot water belt under Nevada and deep boring ought to find it.

Clearance sale of groceries at Olcoovich Bros., to make room for a new stock of gent's furnishing goods and shoes.

Astray.—A heifer calf about 8 months old. Apply at Shaw's Hot Springs.

STATE IMPROVEMENT.

People who are Too Blind to See.

The lack of a concert of action on the part of Nevada newspapers results in a general retarding of State progress. The Gazette has this merited editorial on a case in point.

In a labored attempt to answer our comments on the Carson Tribune's opposition to the Legislature trying to pass good wholesome laws to stimulate the reclamation of Nevada's arid wastes, that paper says:

The Gazette would find it hard to demonstrate how irrigation schemes would make Nevada a competitor of California in raising grapes or how they would materially affect the egg crop. Nevada vegetables are now supplied by Chinese and Italians at prices so low as to defy competition by Americans. As to hay and grain, the great agricultural staples of the State, if the Gazette will inquire of any farmer on the Truckee meadows it will find that there is an abundance of hay for sale at the low price of $5.50 a ton. It will also find by inquiring of the Riverside Mill proprietors that, although they pay the market price for Nevada wheat, the people give an undue preference for California flour, and thus try to destroy their own markets.

We do not propose to enter into a discussion with a paper that resorts to such "argument" as the Tribune does. If that paper insists that there is nothing in the State worth having, and, in its feeble way, does what it can to retard the reclamation of the State, we do not know that we are in any way responsible. If the Tribune, in its great desire to "protect the school fund" wakes up some morning and finds that the school fund is all there is left of the State, and that replaced by a lot of worthless bonds put up in order to maintain one of the most expensive State governments in the Nation, with taxes high and nobody to pay them, we think it will stop and consider whether it is best for Nevada to enter as competitor with California in the culture of grapes or whether or not the "egg crop" did not have something to do with it. So long as Nevada continues to send money abroad to pay for things she might better produce at home, just so long will she be sucking the hind teat in the march of improvement and dragging the Tribune after her crying at the top of its weak voice, "Don't do anything, for it's of no use." Let the Tribune continue to hang on to the skirts of the "mining industry" and it will shortly find itself cut off from the march of improvement, while the State will live, prosper and grow great without any of its assistance.

The course pursued by the Tribune results more from ignorance than design. If the writer of the slurs on Nevada grape culture will visit Mr. Ryland's place in Reno, or Raffetto's ranch in this county, he will see how magnificent grapes can be produced in Nevada. If he will drive out to the Holstein Ranch some Sunday the APPEAL editor will show him some harvested Nevada products that he has continually asserted cannot be grown in this State.

If the Tribune editor will quit booming Tacoma and Washington and cultivate a few acres of Nevada land, he will be able to write of Nevada products with some practical knowledge of them.

Fall Irrigation.

Irrigate the fields in the Fall if possible to do so. A field well wet in the Fall will require less than half the water in the Spring than will one that has been so irrigated. There is great virtue in turning land to freeze and rest when full of moisture.—Ex.

COAST NEWS.

Susanville's brewery has started up again.

Fresno county's oil deposits are attracting attention.

John Parrott, aged sixty-six years, committed suicide at Washington, Nevada county, Monday.

August Olsen, Mrs. Ivett's brother, has been placed under arrest at Merced and charged with the murder of John L. Ivett on the 10th inst.

It is reported that the Denver & Rio Grande is making arrangements to extend its New Mexico division to Albuquerque during the coming season.

George La Blanche was whipped by George Kessler at Butte, Mont., Monday. La Blanche lost on a foul, which he deliberately committed seeing that he was worsted.

Lee Horrell and James Flamant, the two young men who are charged at Napa with being the leaders of a gang of boys who were the authors of several fires, have been held to appear before the Superior Court on the charge of arson.

The case of Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry against N. C. Coldwell, the attorney of the Terry estate at Fresno, was to have come before the Justice's court Monday, but was postponed until Wednesday, Mrs. Terry not appearing. Crowds were in attendance expecting sensational developments.

Testimony is being taken as to the causes of the Chemawa disaster near Salem, Or. It is believed the Commissioners will be ready to report Wednesday. The evidence so far is unfavorable to the railroad. The witnesses for the company are to testify yet.

The cases against the Chinese at San Rafael for catching small fish with bag nets have been postponed until next March, owing to the exhaustion of the venire in obtaining a jury. The defendants are conducting an enormous shrimp-fishing business at Point San Pedro, in Marin county, and should the case be decided against them it will throw three hundred Chinese out of employment at that place.

Salt Mountain.

The salt mountains located on the banks of the Rio Virgin, an affluent of the Colorado, in Lincoln county, Nev., cover an area of twenty-five miles, extending to within seven miles of the junction of that stream with the Colorado. The salt they contain is pure and white and clearer than glass, and it is said that a piece seven or eight inches thick is sometimes clear enough to see through to read a newspaper. Over the salt is a layer of sandstone from two to eight feet thick, and when this is torn away the salt appears like huge snow drifts. How deep it is has not yet been ascertained, but a single blast of giant powder will blow out tons of it. Under the cap rock have been discovered charred wood and charcoal, and matting made of cedar bark, where the salt has preserved the camp of prehistoric man.—Reno Journal.

In Nye county General Irish has discovered caves filled with clear salt. His idea is that this line of caverns was once the shore of the Pacific ocean, and everything there points to this theory. In places he states that he could see objects through twenty feet of crystallized salt, and he has also found Indian pottery and weapons of war, such as bows, arrows and spear heads in the caves which were evidently hollowed out by the action of the waves.

If such deposits of salt were in California or Oregon, plenty of Nevada capital could be found to invest in them. Being in our own State, however, they are too near home.

A clean butcher shop goes far towards keeping the meat fresh. Flies will not gather where things are clean. M. C. Gardner, Jr., has just such a market, where the finest lamb, beef, mutton, pork, sausage, etc., can be secured at any time.

Tomales.

Paul Cromwell is now selling a brand of tomales that melt like nectar in the epicure's mouth. Mrs. Coronado, the most expert tomale maker on the Coast fabricates these delicacies and they are sold for two bits.

For Sale.—A fresh young cow 3 years old. For further particulars apply at this office.
